Another international mystery is whether the Chinese Emperor is dead or alive.

If the City of Columbia is kept here much longer, it will win the right to join the Hawaiian navy.

The numerical force of those who want the screens taken off saloon doors by command of the Executive seems to be nil.

The straw ballot taken by the BULLETIN shows thus far a large proportion in favor of allowing the saloon doors to remain.

Hilo's republican club seems to be doing a thriving business. It can at least get up sufficient interest in politics to have a meeting.

Activity in naval circles centering toward Honolulu harbor proves positively that the United States is not to be slow in making the most of its new possessions.

The success of the Dowager Empress of China indicates that when women once get into international politics, they are not to be pushed aside as easily as might be supposed.

Advance guards of American plantation labor are sure of a cordial reception, notwithstanding the warning has gone forth that there are no openings for laboring men in Hawaii.

The BULLETIN gives the people an opportunity to express their opinion on the recent ruling of the Cabinet regarding saloons. If you have an opinion express it and let the people know your reasons.

One of the features likely to be brought out at the next session of Congress is that Hawaii is not half as big as it used to be. The day has passed when this country can produce an international furor.

Esterhazy may go down in history as a forger or he may not, but he will surely have a place on the staff of the Prince of Liars. The only man who has not made a confession is Dreyfus, and the poor captain will be lucky if he gets back to Paris alive.

The American who can write an unbiased history of Thomas F. Bayard's political career will be hard to find. Unless it is Grover Cleveland, no man of the generation has received more laudation from political friends or had such high voiced condemnation heaped upon him by his enemies.

There was too much up-to-date kicking in Saturday's baseball game to suit the public. Fortunately the sportsman spirit in Honolulu is not educated down sufficiently to put up with it. If the boys want to play without audiences, they can continue as they started in on Saturday.

The return of the ashes of Columbus to Spain coupled with the history of the rise and fall of that nation furnishes plenty of food for reflection on the future of the present great Powers of the world. The Anglo-Saxon now hold a place at the top of the heap and is heralded abroad as the advance guard of the millennium. Will history repeat itself again?

The manner in which the garrison officers deal with the two soldiers who created a row on Fort street last night, will be watched with no small interest.

According to Japanese despatches, Li Hung Chang received a bribe of half a million taels from Russia. Li holds the price of his yellow jacket high, but he is not averse to losing it once in a while at a stated price.

Late reports have it that the Philippine insurgents have appealed to Japan for recognition of their independence. If the understanding between Japan and the United States has been completed, Aguinaldo's forces will fight a forlorn hope in the Japanese Court.

New York Republicans with Col. Roosevelt at their head will go before the people on a platform calling for the release of the Philippines. Here is a popular man on an unpopular platform, and the further development of a campaign of the East against the West on the problem of expansion.

The concession of the Cabinet comes very much in the form of a victory for those who opposed the ruling regarding saloons. Whatever the final outcome may be, this action will give the people an opportunity for a breathing spell; time to think over the scheme and the probable result for good or evil in Hawaii. The Cabinet ought to gain some valuable experience from the incident, and desist from springing radical measures until some method has been devised to obtain the sentiment of the body politic. If the temperance people want to institute reforms the best way to do it is to wait for an election and make a square stand up fight. That is the way it will have to be done under full American rule and the territory is sufficiently close to that point to allow radical measures to drop for the time being.

McKINLEY'S WESTERN TRIP.
President Will Leave Washington on October 10th.

Washington, Sept. 26.—Senator Thurston, accompanied by W. N. Baile, Transportation Manager of the Omaha Exposition, interviewed President McKinley relative to his transportation to Omaha. The President said: "Every road between Chicago and Omaha has tendered the use of its line, and I am profoundly grateful for the courtesy. I am, however, at the disposition of the exposition and shall go as the committee may arrange." Secretaries Gage, Smith, Bliss and Wilson, with their wives, will accompany the President, as will General Miles and Commodore Philip of the Texas and Assistant Postmaster General Heath. The President will leave Washington October 10th, arriving at Chicago Tuesday. Without stopover he will go to Omaha. After the Omaha visit the President will go to Denver, returning to Chicago to attend the peace jubilee exercises in that city October 18th.

England and France in Africa.
The Times declares that the immediate and complete evacuation by the French of the Nile valley and the equatorial provinces must be made a condition precedent to all ulterior discussion.

Conspiracy on the Part of the Emperor.

Peking, Sept. 29.—It is rumored that the Emperor had confessed a conspiracy against the Empress Dowager. The plot is said to have been to induce Yuan Shi-kai to murder Yung-lu, to lead troops into Peking, and to attack the Empress Dowager at her detached palace. The matter ended in a fiasco owing to the betrayal of Yuan. Those who were arrested as accomplices in the affair have been beheaded.

Kang Yu-wei and British Minister.
Peking, September 28.—Sir Claude Macdonald, British Minister, has declined to deliver Kang Yu-wei, now in Hongkong, to the Chinese Government.
